

No. You simply begin paying the monthly instructional fee when you join. If you do join under a “team membership”, you will be required to purchase a uniform set before your 1st game. In addition, you will be responsible for any other applicable team operating expenses if you decide to join the active roster of a team and begin playing games. (Practice Squad members elect not to play in games, so they are not required to purchase a uniform).
