

No. I have never approached, nor otherwise initiated contact with a player on an opposing team about playing on a Carolina Elite Baseball team. Players from other teams have contacted me in the past, and I have fielded those emails and phone calls. It is very important, however, that players from other teams fulfill their commitment to those teams before attending any Carolina Elite workouts.