

The families already involved in the Carolina Elite Baseball program are the best recruiters. It is very important that the environment in which our kids practice and play is a positive one. The families already involved in this program know what I am about, and what atmosphere Carolina Elite Baseball is committed to providing for their kids. With that said, the Carolina Elite families have done an incredible job of recruiting other families that share this perspective. The bottom line... if you like to scream at umpires, yell at kids while they're on the field, or otherwise behave in a way that makes things miserable for those around you, then Carolina Elite Baseball is NOT for you.
