

Email James Molinari if you have selected a song that will not play when your profile page is up. It is, in most cases, very easy to fix, and just requires that song be moved on the server, a process that takes less than a minute.