

Long term commitment

There is no minimum commitment time period for the program. Players may remove themselves from the program at any time, without any further financial obligation. However, if you do remove yourself from the program and decide to rejoin later you will once again owe the $199 registration fee.

Also, please be mindful of how, and for what reason you leave. At the end of the day, I consider teaching these kids how to be good teammates, and how to conduct themselves in an appropriate way to be my highest priority. This includes fulfilling commitments, respecting their teammates, and respecting their coaches. Therefore, if the manner in which you left is in contrast to something that falls underneath that umbrella you will not be allowed to rejoin the program. This includes quitting a Carolina Elite team to play on a competing team (remember you are free to play on other teams as long as they are not on the weekends your Carolina Elite team is playing - we only play 11 - 12 weekends per year, so that's not asking that much), or quitting for any reason in the middle of a season.

There are exceptions to everything, so I do reserve the right to use good judgement on whether to allow a player back into the program. Bottom line, if you are thinking about leaving, and are at all questioning what your status will be to rejoin down the road please take the time to ask me beforehand - I will be honest with you on whether it will be an option based on your set of circumstances.