

The difference between the team membership and the practice squad membership are the following:

1. The team membership includes actual game instruction, which is invaluable. With that said, it also includes the team operating expenses.
2. The practice squad membership only gains you access to team practices, and does not include game instruction. Because of this, the only fees applicable to the practice squad membership are the $49 monthly fee and winter indoor facility rental fees (usually about $10 per month during the winter months).
